Dear Keith,

It was great to be able to see the latest preview of your film “Shoah Ambassadors,” including the production updates on Holocaust survivors, the Vad Vashem Museum, the original rap performance and El Male Rachamim – Holocaust Memorial Prayer – which are all very moving.

As you continue your work on the film toward its completion, I wanted to let you know that we are working on our broadcast and engagement plans for the third and fourth quarters of 2021, looking for dates of significance for this important premiere.

Finally, in addition to a Detroit release, I wanted to follow-up with you on any potential partners you may have for creating and funding a national distribution plan to release “Shoah Ambassadors,” on PBS stations nationwide.

Looking forward to working with you on another partnership that would allow us to continue our work on important topics like this one. Let’s speak again soon, and in the meantime, let’s align on a plan to bring this film to public television.

Sincerely,
